Zool heads for arcades

A MAJOR alliance has been forged between Gremlin Graphics, creators of the best selling Zool-Ninja of the Nth Dimension, and Bell-Fruit Manufacturing, a leader in coin-operation amusement and gaming equipment.

They announced at the January Amusement Trades Exhibition at Earls Court one of the most exciting developments in recent years, that they have combined to produce a new version of the number one selling game based on Zool, the Ninja of the Nth Dimension.

Zool, encased in its own customised cabinets, will hit the streets during the summer of '93, and it will closely resemble its home-computer counterpart in both playability and style.

The arcade game will have a wealth of additional features and take place over amazingly 100 levels.

WRAPS ARE OFF NEW SUPERDECK

Hornby unveiled last week a new adaptor that lets 8 bit NES games run on 16 bit SNES. This new prototype called Superdeck was unveiled at the British Toy and Hobby Fair in London last week. It fits into the top of the SNES like a typical adaptor, but unlike other adapters it has four slots. This is to run UK SNES, import SNES (ie Japanese and US), UK NES and US NES games. You choose on a general menu which format you want. This adaptor should be on the market by June, priced at £30 to £40.

Below is a brief list of some of the top-rated bestselling games on the NES which will almost certainly never see the light of day as 16 bit releases: Super Mario Brothers 1, 2 and 3; Mega Man 1, 2 and 3; Chip 'n' Dale (Rescue Rangers); Castlevania 1, 2 and 3; Low G Man; Gauntlet 2; Dizzy; Snake Rattle and Roll; Rainbow Islands; Boulderdash; Solar Jetman; NES Open Golf; Battle of Olympus; Solstice; New Zealand Story.

These superb titles (and there are many more examples) are the strongest reasons a game junkie will have for buying the Superdeck for his/her NES. Several of the above are already on sale at £24.99 or even less.

Other good news is that if you have a Game Genie you can use it on the adaptor.

Lover's Guide

THIS hugely influential product — one of the best selling videos ever, is being adapted and enhanced for Multimedia CD-ROM Platforms by Supervision, the new subsidiary of Waddington Games Ltd. Combining the material and footage from the video with entertaining and well researched psychometric tests you will be able to enhance your relationship with your partner, test your compatibility and even edit the programme to allow you to use it as an educational product for your children. Lovers Guide is a sensitive and well researched guide to sex, desire and communication.

The planned formats are CD ROM, MPC and Apple Mac which will be available June '93, and CD-I available October '93.

SHOPPING WILL NEVER BE THE SAME

A NEW computer game is ready to mount a serious challenge on Super Mario and Sonic the Hedgehog — all with the help of the weekly groceries.

The hand-held Barcode Battler boasts the computerland heroes and villains in a fight through five light worlds for a showdown with evil Emperor Boss.

But the difference is that players will be able to boost their scores by zapping barcodes on consumer goods before sitting down to play.

The tiny lines that record sales and prices at tills convert into points to enhance attacking power, defensive strength and life energy.

Players simply cut out the code, tape it to a card and slide it into a scanner.

At £40 a set, the hi-tech wizardry is modestly priced by computer game standards and does not require more software.

The game itself has already taken off in Japan where sales of one brand of noodle went into orbit when youngsters found its barcode produced a huge score.

Barcode Battler is on show at this year's British Toy Fair at Earl's Court in London, but doesn't hit the shops until May.

Instructions point out codes on coloured or thick card may need to be photocopied.

Heinz Baked Beans, Wall's Pork and Beef Sausages and Whiskas Catfood were among those that registered "nil points" — as they say in Norway.

A survey reveals that Kellogg's Cornflakes are the greatest force for galactic food since Captain Kirk.

Kodak Gold Film and Andrex toilet rolls also emerged as valuable allies.

Maker TOMY has seen sales soar past one million since launching the game in Japan 18 months ago.

Product manager Tina de Souza was quick to reassure parents worried about soaring grocery bills to satisfy the needs of their computer addict offspring.

She insisted it was not essential to go out and buy extra products to play the game.

"It is not necessary, you can play the game with the barcodes which come with it," she said. "Let's face it, every house is full of barcodes anyway."

HOW THE CODES SCORE

The game works by translating the numbers on barcodes to energy, attack and defence points.

Kellogg's cornflakes: Energy: 40,000. Attack: 7,500. Defence: 7,100.

Andrew four-roll pack: Energy: 39,100. Attack: 6,600. Defence: 10,700.

Butterfly can-opener: Energy: 31,200. Attack: 10,700. Defence: 9,700.

Fuji video cassette: Energy: 4,100. Attack: 900. Defence: 1,200.

Vidal Sassoon Wash 'n' Go shampoo-conditioner: Energy: 10,400. Attack: 7,900. Defence: 1,000.

Pint of milk (Safeway's): Energy: 4,900. Attack: 11,400. Defence: 6,700.

Kodak Gold 135-36 exp colour film: Energy: 40,000. Attack: 7,500. Defence: 7,300.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Warehouse clubs war

THIS year a new style of retailing will hit the UK, offering all types of cut price goods including computers and leisure software. A Seattle based operator called Costco has applied for planning consent to build 120,000 sq ft warehouse at Trafford Park in Manchester. This is its first European venture to open a warehouse club, the fastest growing retail format in America. For a small annual membership fee, individuals and businesses pay close to cost price for products bought in bulk.

Warehouses accept few credit cards, do little advertising and keep store development costs to a minimum. Stock items are just stacked on pallets.

A typical warehouse price that we could see might be £588.50 rather than £749 on IBM's PS1 computer.

The dinosaurs are coming

THE next Spielberg megamovie, Jurassic Park, is planned to hit the screens this summer, and games firms Oceon and Adam Leisure are ready to cash in on this. Adam Leisure is releasing a Grandstand LCD game and wrist game in June, while Oceon has the worldwide game rights for all Nintendo and computer formats. The first console game will be out in August with others following.

NEC computer show cancelled

THE yearly computer show due to be held at the NEC on April 20th-23rd has been cancelled by the organisers Future Publishing. For 12 years this show was a major computing showcase, but the number of exhibitors has dwindled due to market conditions and of course recession, which has caused Future to make this surprise move.

MARIO KART SPECIAL EDITION FOR '93 . . . ?

You will not believe it, but in Japan there has been renewed interest in Mario Kart. There have been several Mario Kart competitions held recently, and there has even been talk of Nintendo holding a national Mario Kart contest that will pit the most awesome streetfighters to a one to one face-off. Don't be surprised to see a special edition of the game released sometime in '93 here in Japan.

IN THE ARCADE

DID you play Time Traveller, the new Sega hologram system for the Arcade?

In Japan Sega recently introduced an update for the hologram system called Holosseum. The game pits either one or two players against each other in a battle to the death in an arena. Arcade owners can buy this in kit form and so upgrade the original hologram game to Holosseum.

THE Otoko Attack system has just entered the market in Japan. It allows you to combine an arcade quality joystick with actual arcade games. You connect the unit to your TV or monitor, then plug into the unit arcade boards and reproduce the actual coin-op game. Arcade owners will not be too happy with the Otoko Attack system as this could seriously affect their revenue.

NOW Japanese gamers will be able to take game play realism to a new high (or low). NEC Home Electronics have released the special virtual cushion (pictured right). Players can add to game interaction by sitting on this pad filled with speakers. Unfortunately it cost $100+, but Matsushita Electric Co will be offering a similar cushion for slightly less.

JVC has unveiled a new Wondermidi software package that will let amateur and professional musicians alike tap into a great secondary use for the Wondermega system. Interfacing with a separate electronic keyboard called the Piano Player, the software enables you to produce all sorts of wild music. It will teach piano lessons and even has a karaoke feature. The tunes produce a graphic explosion on the screen, and the effect is amazing.

OTHER games that are continuing to top the charts here in Japan include Dragon Warrior 5, the first 16-bit entry into the DW Legend, also new entries Magical Quest with Mickey Mouse and Super Famicom and Sonic 2 for the Megadrive.

BIO METAL

Super Famicom
Athena of Japan

In this shooting game you fly to an alien colony and give them some stick. Bio Metal features a unique power-up system, and the number of power-ups collected depends on how well you are doing throughout the game. If you are really bad and die all the time the computer will compensate and shower you with power-ups. There are eight levels with three sections in between where you face a Mid Boss before meeting the Big Boss at the end of the level.

POP N'

Super Famicom
Konami of Japan

This is a shooter kind of like Parodius. A two player game, shooting is the ultimate objective. You and your friend have to battle against bizarre enemy ships with daft weapons. You collect power-ups that give you shields, options and you can 'ouch' enemies for big points. A rather strange game!

This special air cushion takes game play realism to a new high!

F-1 GRAND PRIX PART II

SUPER FAMICON by Video Systems of Japan

COSMO POLICE

SUPER FAMICOM
Shon Bussan Co of Japan

The game is set in the year 2000 and a black hole has suddenly appeared in the galaxy, which has brought the most evil entities ever to roam the universe to shatter peace. The Cosmo police have the job of bringing peace by eliminating the invaders. You must find these alien terrorists on an alien planet. There are tons of characters to fight, most of the game is side-scrolling action where you use punches, kicks, or body throws. Skills that you have learned keep you in the lead when you reach the end of the level as you must go one-on-one with the boss.

The second version of the game is set in an overhead perspective and offers lots of options to fine tune your car. You can retune your engine, change its horsepower rating, change the transmission, adjust the wing angles, and even slap on new tyres. You can race against a timer, or do a few practice laps, or if you feel lucky go head-to-head against computer controlled racers. The ultimate game for diehard racers.

TRANSA BANKER

Megadrive, Sega of Japan

This game has two modes of play that make this a unique action/shooter game unlike any other game. There is a first-person perspective shooter game where you aim crosshairs at oncoming opponents, and a side scroller where constant shooting is offset by frequent power-ups that transform your ship to outrageous proportions.

ELECTRIC ALESTE

Mega CD ROM
Compile of Japan

You may remember this shooter game as Nobunaga and His Ninja Forces. Enemy attackers strike with fury through all sorts of changing weather, such as snow, rain and lightning, and the overhead perspective gives incredible detail of the ground. You face hordes of enemies on your adventures, like huge bosses armed to the gills, that fill up three full screens! A great shooter CD.

NBEE

SONG MASTER

Super Famicom by Yanoman of Japan

You have been chosen to find the scroll of sound and halt the force of evil that is taking over earth, before it becomes complete chaos. You have to find people in the town to help you in your quest, and use the power of the musical sequence that shatters the evil. There are enemies and traps everywhere trying to stop you.

HARDBALL

SEGA MEGA DRIVE

So real you can smell the peanuts!

ACCOLADE has released Hardball III for the Sega Mega Drive. Hardball, the company's first baseball game for the Sega Mega Drive, hit the top of the American charts in 1991. Released last May, the PC version of Al Michaels Announces Hardball III soared to and remains at the top of the charts.

Building on the reputation of the well known Hardball series of computer and video games, Hardball III takes baseball enthusiasts as far as they want to go in action, strategy and pure fun.

"In creating the Sega Mega Drive version of Hardball III, we looked at what other baseball video games offered, as well as what our customers have asked for in a baseball video game," states Pam Levins, the producer of the game.

"We're adding play-by-play commentary by Al Michaels, the Emmy award-winning commentator as well as 'team effort' play where your team mates will actually back you up during a play. Action game fans will be thrilled with the detailed graphics and realistic player movements.

"Arcade game fans will find this baseball game challenging and exciting, elements which have made Hardball synonymous with Accolade," Levins concluded. Hardball III is a one or two-player game in which players can compete in exhibition games, a complete 162 game season including an all-star game, play-offs and championship games.

Players can save an individual game, a season in progress, or the all-star game and one or two complete teams can be customised and saved using the player and pitcher editor. Using the VCR-like "Instant Replay" feature, players can save key plays to a highlight reel for later viewing. Other features include the ability to track upcoming games via the month-by-month, on-screen calendar and the availability of over 25 different statistical categories, appearing on-screen in "baseball card format".

Hardball III features accurately rendered major league ballparks to include such authentic characteristics as the correct distances to walls and foul territories. Players can even create customised team logos, change the colour of the uniforms and caps, or choose individual faces using the player editor.

STRIKER!

elite

NEW from Elite Systemson the SNES is a brilliant new soccer simulation — Striker! This version follows on from the success of the Amiga and ST versions and on the SNES will be one of the best football games available.

Criticisms of the Amiga version have been taken into account in developing for the SNES and should ensure at least as good a position in the Gallup Charts as it did on the Amiga.

The game is played from a unique position — an aerial view, just behind one of the goals. You select the team of your choice from one of the 64 international sides provided, each of which has its own unique strengths, abilities and skill levels, based upon their real-life counterparts.

Play the game

You may choose a two player game, or enter the cup competition where you face six rounds of ferocious football, culminating in the ultimate challenge — the final of the World Tournament.

When playing in the competition, the computer will automatically arrange your fixtures, and decide the results of other matches.

If the teams are level at the end of the game you can play extra-time, go straight for a penalty shoot-out, or even have a re-match. You can even change the weather and pitch conditions if you fancy more of a challenge.

EXPLORE THE WOODS!

Dr Franken II — Gameboy

EXPLORE the woods in the brilliant new Dr Franken II game from Elite and you will not find fluffy little teddy bears! Instead you will be amazed, amused and sometimes driven to distraction by the monstrous 'Franky' — Dr Von Frankenbone's miracle of spare-part surgery.

Available in June 1993, Dr Franken II is expected to retail at £24.99.

The plot is hilarious with Franky once again in big trouble. The castle is in urgent need of repair and the electricity board has presented him with a huge bill (to pay for all the recharges he and Bitsy have had over the years) and the property developers are waiting to move in. Franky's task is simple — find Dr Frankenbone's dosh!

Having been driven from the mad scientist's castle, Franky has taken refuge in a Chateau hidden on the edge of the Frankenbone estate.

Franky has also been locked in by the local residents, so first he must find the back door key, then he can get out to search the grounds, the haunted out-house, the forest and the greenhouse which contains Frankenbone's mutated plant experiments.

Franky must also visit the local village, search a submerged shipwreck, and travel to Egypt where some of Dr Frankenbone's money is on deposit!

With all the humour and fun of Dr Franken, Dr Franken II has gone on to exploit the graphics capability of the Gameboy, like no other game on the market today.

The challenge presented by Franky will appeal whether you are 8 or 80. Dr Franken II will also be available later in 1993 on NES.

WARP SPEED

HURTLE through space at "WarpSpeed". Can you successfully pilot your starfighter and save Earth from an alien horde?

Earth, circa 2999. Peace has reigned for centuries, until the discovery that Black Holes — portals to distant galaxies — are harbingers of evil and unspeakable terrors. In a blinding flash, Earth finds itself struggling to defend itself against an onslaught of aliens. A group of scientists work around the clock to create the first of many starfighters capable of tackling entire squadrons of enemy ships. But the first ship has been built and they need a pilot. Do you have what it takes to save Earth?

This is the premise for WarpSpeed, a new video game for both Super Nintendo® and Sega® Mega Drive®. Using a unique first person, full screen "cockpit" perspective, WarpSpeed offers total immersion in the game with a "you are there" feeling.

Wage battle in seven different increasingly difficult scenarios or play a four scenario campaign mode. Fight against 16 different enemy spacecrafts, each with unique flight and battle characteristics. Work your way up through the ranks, earning the right to pilot increasingly more powerful Starfighters. If you're brave enough and complete your missions successfully, you'll even become eligible to earn medals.

THE EYE OF THE BEHOLDER 3

Beauty truly is in Eye of the Beholder II: Assault on Myth Drannor, the grand finale to the best-selling 3-D graphic fantasy adventure series of all time. Developed in-house by Strategic Simulations, Inc. (SSI), the game is enriched with improved graphics, a deeper plot, more role-playing, and new companions who travel with the heroes of Darkmoon as they explore this third and most dangerous game. The game is due for an April release, and the Clue Book will follow in May.

Eye III's good looks are readily apparent, from the gorgeous 3-D graphics enhanced with more colours and finer detail, to the striking intermission sequences. Eye III contains three times as many cinematics as its predecessor, plus over 30 still shots, some letter-boxed which tell the tale of the game.

To complement the visuals, six fully-scored music pieces tie in with the cinematics. Over 70 digitised sound effects range from screams to spell explosions to bird chirps.

Not only is Eye III better looking and sounding, it's better playing. The game is much meaner and bigger, at over 50% larger than Eye II, with increased artificial intelligence for friends and foes alike. The game takes place in Myth Drannor, a ruined city within the FORGOTTEN REALMS™ world.

Assault on Myth Drannor

Versions:

The player's four-hero adventuring party must wrest an artifact of divine power from the dread undead lich Acwellan. They encounter a massive 35-creature bestiary as they journey, but find help from new monster allies such as sprites, were-tigers, and Saurials (lizard-like humanoids).

A plethora of intricate puzzles and traps requires players to think on their feet or perish. The good news is the streamlined icon-based interface provides smoother moves and an automatic attack function during combat.

"At first glance it is obvious to players how improved Eye III's visual presentation is compared with the previous games. The graphics are definitely eye-catching, and the added emphasis on interaction and puzzle-solving will keep players hooked on the game play," stated Bob Malin, US Gold's Senior Product Manager responsible for SSI in the UK.

Spanning a multitude of outdoor and indoor environments, including a mausoleum, a temple, several guilds, and a forest, Eye III offers single players 40-80 hours of fearsome adventure. Veterans from Eye II can import their favourite characters, complete with accumulated weapons, treasure, and experience levels.

Summer Challenge

Strengthening its leadership position in the arena of sports simulations, Accolade announced at the Winter Consumer Electronics Show the release in May of Summer Challenge™ for the Sega® Mega Drive®.

This simulation pits the world's best athletes against each other in an international competition for the gold medal. Stamina, dedication and skill are needed to compete in eight, gruelling summer sports events including the pole vault, high jump, javelin, 400 meter hurdles, cycling, kayaking, equestrian, and archery.

As the athlete in Summer Challenge, you enter your name into the competition and select your country of origin. You can then compete in one of the two modes of play — training (practice each event) or tournament (compete against computer or human opponents). In the eight-event tournament mode, you can compete against computer athletes of three different skill levels with up to 10 players participating.

Summer Challenge contains digitised footage of contestants, captured from live video of actual athletes performing in those same events.

It includes an instant replay feature to allow players to relive the glory of their previous performance. These high calibre athletic events are complete with the pomp and circumstance of the opening and closing ceremonies. In addition, incredible attention has been paid to detail, duplicating as closely as possible the movements, tactics and strategy of the real events.

Summer Challenge is designed for Accolade by MindSpan, developers of the Sega Mega Drive version of Winter Challenge™ and the best-selling Al Michaels Announces Hardball III™ available now, for IBM PC and compatible computers, and coming soon for the Sega Mega Drive.

Price £34.99.

Jack Nicklaus' Power Challenge Golf tees off on Mega Drive

Details of Jack Nicklaus' Power Challenge Golf™, have been revealed by Accolade. It's the company's first golf simulation for the Sega Mega Drive. The newest member of the most successful line of golf simulations on the market, Jack Nicklaus' Power Challenge Golf is developed in association with Jack Nicklaus and Jack Nicklaus Productions. It features two Nicklaus designed courses and fully-digitised golfers, including Jack Nicklaus himself.

Players can challenge two of Jack's finest course designs — water intensive English Turn Golf Club (New Orleans), and rugged Sherwood Country Club (Thousand Oaks, CA). The game features the widest variety of golf shots, Accolade's acclaimed and easiest-to-use "Power Bar" interface, as well as complete statistics on individual players which are updated after every round.

Players can select from a variety of options, including the ability to play alone; against three other human or computer controlled opponents; compete in stroke, skins or tournament play; or practice on the driving range and the putting green.

The programme also features a Tournament mode with an option to play against the computer, or up to a maximum of three other human players.

Players can also customise computer players so they can play just like real pros on the tour. Using the helpful on-screen tape measure feature, players can read the exact distance between their ball and any other object or location on the hole.

The game contains music and a wide variety of digitised sound effects, including the natural sound of the ball landing in the water, or on the green. With crowd responses throughout the game, players will feel like they have an audience watching their every shot.

Further, the game adjusts ball trajectories to account for club selection and with fast, easy gameplay, gives players the most complete video game golf experience available.

Virtual Reality

DESPITE the many technological advances in the last 50 years, Virtual Reality represents a revolution, as it makes the shift from passive content (watching a TV and do nothing) to interactive content (taking an active part).

VR technology is evolving so quickly that the line between imagination and reality is becoming more blurred. The following description sounds like a bad dream but it could fit just as well into a Virtual Reality environment.

"The stones are cold and slippery beneath your feet as you walk down the dark forbidding dungeon corridor. Suddenly you are trapped alone, as gates creak shut at both ends of the corridor.

Your pulse quickens. To your horror you hear a noise and realise you are not alone. From the depths of the darkness a dragon rears its ugly head, and you realise you have only one chance, to raise your sword and swipe off his head."

A child need not just sit alone, watch a screen, but can instead have fantastic adventures with other children and families. Try whizzing down the tracks of a roller coaster with impossible twists and turns!

While a person can go forget all the hassle of going away for a weekend, and can instead have an adventure of his own choice. What about a dragon-fighting knight in medieval times, a top secret international spy, or a mechanised warrior in the year 2112 (remember the film Total Recall?).

The Battletech Centre in Chicago already exists where you can choose from a list of robots, then you are this warrior fighting it out on an electronic battlefield.

VR is going to increasingly become a prominent technology as computers come closer to catching up with our imagination.

SUPER NINTENDO

PREVIEW SPECIAL

LONDON – 20th January, 1993. The world's top supply of yarnballs is seriously threatened, and it's up to Bubsy to put a stop to the yarnball plundering. Bubsy is a bobcat with a mission.

Earth has been invaded by the Woolies, inhabitants of the planet Rayon, whose civilisation is powered by hig fibre plasma engines which utilise yarnball super-clusters at their core.

This of course requires a lot of yarnballs, and so the Twin Queens of Rayon — Polly and Esther, have sent their yarn plated saucers of Silk to a planet abundant in yarn — Earth. Little do they know they have to contend with the world's greatest yarn hoarder himself, Bubsy.

PRICE: £49.99 – AVAILABLE: JUNE '93

CLAWS ENCOUNTERS OF THE FURRED KIND

BUBSY IN: CLAWS ENCOUNTERS OF THE FURRED KIND takes platform video games to a new level. It's a monstrous 16-meg interactive challenge. Bubsy has a flamboyant personality. Watch his reaction as he enters and exits the wild waterslides.

Everyone knows how much cats hate water, and Bubsy is no exception, giving new meaning to the expressions "Ah-ooga!" and "Fluff Dry!" You'll see nothing but a blur of fur when Bubsy meets up with a wayward Woolie or other foe and engages in an all claws bared catfight.

In addition to his large repertoire of expressions and mannerisms (over 40 animations), he'll also tell you what's on his mind. This makes Bubsy one of the first animated video game characters to actually speak!

According to John Skeel, the game's producer, "Bubsy is one cool cat. He's a state-of-the-art feline who's got a digitized voice, American style cartoon animation, great detailed art, realistic sound effects and his own original movie-style musical score. Bubsy will keep you challenged for hours — there's more than one way to skin this cat," Skeel adds: "Claws Encounters of the Furred Kind is one of the first interactive cartoons created here in the U.S. We've made this a deep game. In uncompressed form, the data is many times larger than the cartridge itself. There are plenty of hidden levels and secret rooms to explore as Bubsy flips, soars and even floats on his quest to save his precious yarnballs."

Just like a classic cartoon, you'll become involved in a story full of obstacles to overcome, pratfalls to laugh at and foes to fight. Wind your way through the different paths of the five worlds, each containing three chapters, plus a 10-screen by 10-screen final boss chapter. Each of the 16 chapters is very large, some covering an incredible distance of 30 screens long by 10 screens high. Only you will be able to help Bubsy avoid falling rocks, eggs, rolling manhole covers, cheesewheels, projectile gumballs and the many other dangers and challenges that wait for him in Claws Encounters of the Furred Kind.

COUNT THE MANY WAYS THAT POOR OLD BUBSY CAN DIE. IT'S JUST AS WELL THAT CATS HAVE NINE LIVES.

SOLUTIONS

STAR Control II is about exploration, communication, resource management, in terms of material resources and time, so here are some tips you need to give you more time to complete the tasks to win.

THE FLAGSHIP

When the flagship is under human control it can only travel in 16 different directions, so it is difficult to follow a straight line between star systems. Whereas with the autopilot, the flagship follows straight lines exactly, so saving time and fuel.

Also when on the autopilot the ship can pass near a star which is on its path without being drawn into its star system.

The autopilot will fly the ship in the direction it was last pointed until it reaches hyperspace, so when leaving a star system point the ship towards the nearest edge of the system before engaging the autopilot, therefore using the least amount of time.

At hyperspace the ship orients itself and follows the course charted on the star map. When alien ships are near, or you are in hyperspace, manual control must be used, because you can elude the enemies better, especially when the flagship has been equipped with extra turning jets and thrusters.

The Arilou ships can be found between the Chandrasekhar and Circini constellations, and they have a technique for moving through space which saves tremendous amounts of time and fuel, especially over large distances.

Captains should keep an eye on their long-range scanners, especially between the 17th and 20th day of each month. If fuel runs out while in hyperspace, a Melnorme trading ship will eventually appear and you can sell lifeform data for Melnorme credits, and so buy fuel.

You can summon a trader at any time in hyperspace, even if you still have fuel, if you have a hyperwave caster on board. In this way you can go on extended space voyages without returning to Starbase. You must always make sure you go on extended space voyages without returning to Starbase.

You must always make sure you do not run out of fuel in hostile space, as you could be attacked before help arrives.

MINING EXPEDITIONS

Each unit of fuel purchased at the Earth Starbase costs 30 resource units (RU) which is equal to five units of precious metal. So you must fill the cargo modules on every trip with the most valuable minerals available.

When the hold is full, swap the less valuable materials for more valuable ones.

You can find out how much a planetary landing will cost by moving the cursor in the "scan" menu to the "despatch" entry. The status window will display the amount that will be consumed.

If you add the value of the mineral type for each deposit revealed by the mineral scan, and multiplying the total by eight, you can estimate the number of RU a mining trip will collect. You can

- Will you all just SHUT UP for a second?
- Listen, we come in peace - really! All those pointy things on our hull are just sensors.
- Please don't vaporize us!

- If you don't defend your planet, the Ur-Quan.
- The presence of the Iluvians in space is an act of war!
- Would you consider an alliance with forces against the Dragoon?

CONTROL

then tell if the trip will be worth it. It is almost always worth a trip to collect lifeforms as each unit of biological data is worth four fuel units (120 RU).

You must take surface conditions into account when planning a mining expedition, because if a planet's surface is inhospitable it will cost resource units to replace lost crew. At all costs avoid using landers (500 RU).

To reduce the number of mining accidents obtain technology from the Melnorme.

Take my tip! Starship captains will always find it worthwhile to visit the third planet of the Alpha Centauri system.

As a cost-effective alternative to mining you can park a well-armed flagship in a hostile region of hyperspace and wait for enemy ships, then destroy these ships and scavenge the RU from the debris. These ships are worth between 100 and 250 RU so this is worthwhile as long as you do not lose any of your ships, which are very costly to build.

THE DIFFERENT RACES

From the Melnorme you can buy technology, which makes mining and combat easier and also information on alien races, to provide a starting point for many sub-plots in the game.

You can buy all they have to offer by finding all 10 of the 'Rainbow Worlds' which interest them. These Rainbow Worlds are arranged in deliberate straight lines.

In the early stages of the game the

- What do you mean, 'blaze of glory'? What happened to the Shofixti?
- Why do the Syreen fight for the Ur-Quan?
- Why did the Yehat become battle slaves?

robot of the Slylandro is a deadly nuisance. The Zok-Fot-Pik at Alpha Tucanae, who are good allies to have early in the game, will help you find the Slylandro. Their stinger ships are fragile, inexpensive, nimble and devastating against star ships that do not have a powerful short range weapon, such as the thraddash torch, or mycon podship, which is vulnerable from behind.

The Druuge are a race of traders who trade in slaves. You must consider the morale of the crew before selling any of them to the Druuge, and make sure you do not sell them anything you may need later.

In one of the game's sub-plots, the player must re-establish the shofixti race, to continue dealings with the Yehat. This can reduce the cost of replacement crew members.

The Orz are a strange race, and be cautious about questioning them about the Androsynth. The Nemesis ships of the Orz with their "space commandoes" are awesome fighting machines, so try to form an alliance with them.

Other races you will come into contact with are the Urquan, Kohr-Ahother, the Utwig, the Supox, the Thraddash, the Ilwrath, Theyehat and the Mycon.

Good luck captain. May the force be with you.

es, you will be enslaved by fleet in this region of e with Earth and Melnorme

- What do you mean, 'blaze of glory'? What happened to the Shofixti?
- Why do the Syreen fight for the Ur-Quan?
- Why did the Yehat become battle slaves?

OUTRUN 2019

This racing game has impressive artwork backgrounds, such as the Great Wall of China and the Pyramids. The car controls well, and you feel as though you are struggling when you corner. Another good thing is that when you hit max turbo the road shifts at a great speed. You have to be careful as the flyovers don't have any crash barriers, so be careful you don't fall off the track.

Quite a competent racing game, and the best in the Outrun series. But cannot compare with Lotus, or Super Monaco GP 2.

Motorhead's Mango Masterpieces

YOOOO! I'm back with a rhyme and to waste your time. It ain't no crime to review games that are slime.

The cur-sed mango or putrid lime! It's a hobby of mine to occasionally nit rhyme.

Pity your parents. NOT ME!

Can I just say, before I continue this drabble, that I find ALL computer games below par and unless you're a keen golfer (FORE! Ouch@$!), that's bad not good.

But if you're a Michael Jackson fan (E OW OO!) or one of these jumped up, hyped up teenage vanities! I mean rubbish not Bad! Total chosh. Unworthy of a bat of an eyelid.

Catch the gist? No? Who cares? I don't! Don't go crying to your Mummies saying that I've burst the bubble of your fantasy for that of reality.

Get a brain and if you can find one big enough for my ego, let me hear!

(PS. If all else fails, get a mango, slice it in two and serve with a dollop of strawberry ice cream and chopped peanuts! Now we'll find out who is the truly sick one among us. It's not me ... CHOMP ... CHOMP ... SLURP ... CHOMP ... BEEEEARRFF ... F ... F!) I lied.

While I get cleaned up, ponder this thought for a minute: "What do you call a joke with no punchline?"

Ah, that's better. Right where was I. Oh yes.

An important note to Wimbledon FC and Joe Kinnear, whom I characteristically offended last month.

"Dear Joe and WFC, If you think that sending Vinny Jones around to snap at my heels (pun intended) and demand an apology was the the only solution to the problem, you were wrong.

Mind you I've always wanted to join the boys' choir! Don't get me wrong Joe-y boy, but the war ended over 50 years ago. All the best for the future and if you keep beating Aresenal, I might begin to like you yet!"

Video Kid — Gremlin Graphics — Amiga — RUBBISH!

So you really want a review of the game. You don't trust my word! Well really! Don't blame me if you fall asleep for a year and miss the next excellent instalment of Motorheads Mango Masterpieces through your doubting my say-so!

Oh, you're still here then. (There's always one. Damn! and I wanted the space off today!)

Video Kid is Billy (William to his strangers!), in this scrolling mini adventure (Don't get me wrong. He doesn't go around wearing short skirts!), brought to us (well me at least!), by Gerbiling Gimicks. Sorry! that's Gremlin Graphics. (I always seem to get those two mixed up!)

One day, while Billy was twiddling his thumbs with nothing apparently to do (Eh up girls! Nudge. Nudge!), he decided to watch a video on a video recorder (Come on per-leese! Just because you use a toaster!) which his dad had recently bought.

He switched it on and to his horror (somebody had recorded over Neighbours!), no, he was suddenly drawn into the screen in a blaze of flashing lights (not too dissimilar to a Jean Michael Jarre concert!)

Now the game begins. There are five levels/worlds in all, in which you have to find a way through to the next, while avoiding or zapping the nasties.

The game is continually scrolling, so you're always on the move, because if you stop moving the screen doesn't! (Squashing your philanderings all over the place! Oooh painful!)

The worlds are as follows: Medieval, Western, Sci-fi, Gangster and Horror. With nasties ranging from Knights 'n' Gargoyles, Cowboys 'n' Indians, Aliens 'n' Spaceships, Gangsters 'n' Bi-planes and Skeletons 'n' Mummies.

The worlds are split into sections and when you reach the last section on each world, you face an end of level guardian (Big Chief — Many Missiles!)

To help you try to win through the game, there are different weapons which can be changed constantly throughout the game by passing through or shooting their icons when they appear.

These include missiles, flame thrower, ripple (not ice-cream!!) arrows, spheres and laser.

There are also icons for directional fire, shields, smart bombs etc (Mind you, there's no mango power-ups!)

If and when (Easy-Peasy!) you complete world five by destroying the final nasty, you've won and Billy can become plain old Billy again (and with a bit of luck the little twerp will stop watching these mental videos! and get a life! or a brain! or a sense of humour!!)

So you've reached this sentence? WAKEY! WAKEY! You'll want to read the breakdown board ... Maybe!

Lemmings 2

SINCE its release in 1991, Lemmings has gained cult status and has made a lot of money for its publishers. Little surprise then, that Psygnosis decided to release a follow up. Trouble is, how could they possibly improve on the game, and more importantly, how could they do so without it becoming repetitious and boring?

The answer is simple — they came up with a whole bunch of new skills for your Lemmings to master — 50 of them to be train-spottingly precise!

then, to add an extra element of spice, they divided the Lemmings into 12 tribes, each of whom inhabits their own unique landscapes complete with advantages, peculiarities and perils.

Of course, there's the usual unimportant story-line, some old tripe about having to reunite a broken talisman, but who gives a toot, it's the game that counts!

Lemmings 2 is very similar to the first game. The objective is to get as many Lemmings to safety as possible. To do that, you will have to negotiate an increasingly complicated and dangerous selection of obstacles.

To help you negotiate these obstacles, you are given a number of skills, some of which are permanent, whilst others have an immediate but one-off effect. For example, if you teach a Lemming to climb, he'll be able to climb for the rest of the game, or until he dies.

However, if you teach the stupid thing to use a surfboard, he'll immediately start surfing, but will need to be shown how to surf each time you want to encounter more water.

The selection of skills available to you and the quantity of each skill, varies from game to game. Sometimes there will be far more than you need, whilst at other times you'll have to be absolutely perfect in your Lem-control.

In order to successfully complete a level, you'll need to complete two tasks: first you need to figure out what needs to be done (ie, how to get your Lemmings to safety), then having worked out their escape route, you need to actually execute your plan.

As I mentioned, each of the 12 tribes inhabits their own landscapes. These landscapes consist of a number of individual games based on the tribal theme — Space or Highlands for example.

When you start a new landscape, you are responsible for the entire tribe of 100 lemmings. However, if you lose any of them, you'll start the next game in the landscape with an appropriately smaller tribe. Most of the time this doesn't matter, but there are occasions when you'll need a certain number of lemmings to complete a game.

— now it's twice as good

They're cute, they wear outrageous green wigs and they're more suicidal than a kamikaze convention. Mat Broomfield puts on his silliest squeaky voice and joins the tribe . . .

One of the original game's greatest faults was that it became far too difficult too soon. You needed the reflexes of a snake, and the brains of Einstein to complete it.

Lemmings 2 brilliantly manages to avoid the same pitfall by lowering the number of creatures that need to be guided to safety.

However, if you find simply saving a bare minimum number of lemmings too easy, you can always try to get a higher number home. This may totally alter the game, for in most cases it's a piece of cake to get a single Lemming home, but it can do your brain serious damage trying to get them all home!

In addition to the skills that you can teach your lemmings, there are sometimes pieces of equipment (such as trampolines, catapults, swings, etc) simply lying around the landscape.

Any lemming that encounters one of these items will immediately attempt to use it (providing it's not already in use). These objects are usually critical to your success, and add yet another dimension of fun to the game.

And that really is what this game is all about. There are loads of games that are good, or entertaining or addictive, but Lemmings 2 is funny from start to finish, often sidesplittingly so. The game's programmers have obviously got an absolutely wicked sense of humour because some of the elements of Tribes are just plain warped, there's no other way to describe them!

In terms of bad guys, you've got to contend with dragons that fry you, machines that turn you into ice cubes, vacuum tubes that suck you till you burst, hands that grab you from nowhere, pistons that squidge you flat and tons of other equally nasty stuff.

On your side, you've got skills such as Icarus wings, bazookers (sic), laser guns, magno-boots, divers, skaters, surfers and swimmers, and that's not even one-fifth of the list!

What really elevates this game to hysterical levels, is the sheer brilliance of the animation. I mean these lemmings are only tiny, yet each of them is given great personality by the way they move, and sometimes it's a real scream just to watch the antics of these little guys as they wiggle their way across the screen.

I particularly like the cannon animation when a lemming lights the fuse of a large cannon then briskly climbs into a barrel in time to be fired across the screen, little arms and legs waving frantically as he flies.

If you're lucky, he'll simply knock himself out when he lands, in which case he'll bounce like a wet kipper and lay motionless for a few moments before he springs back to life ready for you to control him.

Lemmings 2 greatly surpasses the high standards set by its predecessor. The variety of levels combined with the 12 tribal landscapes and the huge number of skills ensure that it will remain entertaining for a long time to come.

For maximum value, I suggest that you get the munchies in and invite a friend round. That way you can enjoy the game's humour between you!

Put this at the top of your shopping list!

MEGA
DRIVE

THE HUMANS is a puzzle game about a group of primitive tribesmen trying to survive everyday life in the Stone Age. Control the tribe while they try to discover the spear, fire, the wheel and other items. Control them as they fight dinosaurs, or each other. Will the human race ever grow to today's standard?

New items to invent:

THE SPEAR Can be used for throwing, poking and also for jumping. You may ask how you can jump with a spear! Pole vault over any gap. The distance you jump can be controlled accurately.

THE WHEEL The wheel, when you have found it, can be used as a unicycle. You can race around, leap over gaps, and run over any stray humans.

THE ROPE You can use this to lower humans over ledges or let them climb up or down from inaccessible areas. It can also be thrown across gaps to help you get across.

FIRE Other than for burning bushes, this can be used for poking out the eyes of dinosaurs, and getting them to turn round.

You will be treated to a bonus game every couple of rounds, where you can rescue one of your captured humans from his trap. Then he will join your tribe.

If one of your tribe wanders too close to a dinosaur, will quickly become a tasty snack. This is a must game for determined puzzlers, as it is a very good example of its genre.

CONSOLE

Yourself

The console market has taken the UK

by storm. Here, Game Mania gives you the low down on the available gear...

The console market has taken the UK by storm by taking the mystique out of computer games. Players don't need a keyboard or a monitor. They just plug the machine into the TV and control the images using a simple handset.

The games are contained on cartridges which are almost impossible to pirate. The biggest companies, Sega and Nintendo, are well known to most video dealers. They control the manufacture of cartridges, which means that any publisher wanting to produce a game for Sega or Nintendo equipment must have an official licence. Therefore, both companies manufacture their own games and those of their licensees.

CONSOLES

Considered the more streetwise company, with the edge in the UK market. Games retail between £19.99 and £39.99 SRP. Its console-format machines are:

● MEGA DRIVE: This powerful 16-bit machine has been on the market since 1990. Cost: £129.99 SRP with game.

● MASTER SYSTEM: Sega's 8-bit machine, launched in 1987, is really meant for younger players. Cost: £49.99 to £89.99 SRP with game.

NINTENDO ◆

While Sega may be slightly better known to dealers, Nintendo is the bigger company with a greater worldwide market share. Games retail between £19.99 and £49.99 SRP. Its console machines are:

● SUPER NES: 16-bit machine. Nintendo has its work cut out to catch up with the Mega Drive. Cost: £159 SRP.

● NES: This 8-bit machine started the console boom when it was launched back in 1988. It helped Nintendo become the biggest company in Japan. Cost: £54.99 to £79.99 SRP.

NEO GEO ◆

A newly-launched system with a tiny market share. Machines cost £299.99 SRP, while games range from £99.99 to £149.99 SRP. Designed for rental.

HANDHELDS

THESE are the portable versions of console machines with software which retails from around £25 SRP.

● NINTENDO GAME BOY:

The market leader, which the company estimates had sold 750,000 by December 1991. It has a black and white screen, but it is the smallest of the handhelds. Cost: £79.99 SRP.

● SEGA GAME GEAR: This machine with a colour screen has sold around 130,000 in the UK. Cost: £99.99 SRP.

● ATARI LYNX: Reckoned to be technically excellent, the Lynx (colour screen) doesn't quite have the public profile of its two rivals. Cost: £89.99 SRP.

16-BIT HOME MICROS

THESE are the second generation of domestic computers which specialise in playing games software. As 16-bit machines, they are faster and offer better graphics than the first generation 8-bit machines. Games come on 3.5 inch floppy discs which are, unfortunately easily copied. The two 16-bit home micros are:

● AMIGA: The most popular machine, with nearly a million units in the UK. Cost: around £349.99 SRP. Games retail for around £24.99 SRP.

● ATARI ST: The ST is now acknowledged to be lagging behind the Amiga, even though it's cheaper (£299 SRP). Software prices are the same as for the Amiga.

8-BIT HOME MICROS

THE first machines to take games out of the arcades and into the home. The formats are Sinclair Spectrum, Amstrad CPC and Commodore 64. They all use cassettes to run games, although versions of the Amstrad and Commodore use a disc. The games still sell (at around £10.99 SRP) because of the sheer number of machines on the market. But there is no real growth potential here.

PERSONAL COMPUTERS

MANY people have their own PCs (IBM-compatible personal computers) for word processing or accounts. But few have used

s new Mega CD system
welcome boost to popular Mega Drive

• INTERACTIVE CD: These machines play educational programmes, "electronic books", music with graphics and games. Commodore already has its CDTV on the market (£499 SRP), and Philips will unveil its CD-I later this year.

• CD-ROM: Using a CD rather than a floppy disc means instant loading, virtually guaranteed prevention of piracy, and improved sound and graphics. IBM-compatible CD games are already out (around £34.99 retail). The Commodore A570 converts the Amiga home micro into a CD-playing games machine. Sega have released the Mega CD, which slots onto the Mega Drive. Nintendo is also developing its own CD machine. ROM stands for "Ready Only Memory" — which is memory for loading games programmes, not for storage.

Nintendo, such as Acclaim, have broken away from Bandai and set up their own distribution deals. All the games on other formats and their accessories go through the distributors, the biggest of which are Centresoft, Columbus, Leisuresoft and Gem.

SOFTWARE PUBLISHERS

ALTHOUGH both Nintendo and Sega produce their own games, much of their catalogue is the product of licensed third-party publishers. These companies devise, programme and often market the games across all formats. It can take years to come up with original and challenging games. Licensed products are big business, since film simulations such as Indiana Jones And The Last Crusade and endorsed games guarantee a certain number of sales and an easier way to get press coverage.

Software publishers usually release games on the home micros first, followed by consoles/ PC, and then handhelds. Among the best known companies are Ocean, Electronic Arts, Mindscape, Domark, Virgin, US Gold, Gremlin, Microprose, Acclaim and Psygnosis.

DISTRIBUTORS

IN THE computer games business, distributors are the equivalent of what video dealers call wholesalers. They probably have more clout than their video equivalents, since the software publishers (what video calls distributors) often don't have their own sales and distribution departments. Nintendo games and machines have traditionally gone through one company, Bandai UK, although some software publishers for

CD SYSTEMS

PUTTING games on a compact disc means manufacturers can make home entertainment CD machines incorporating games, music, educational programmes, even movies. Still in its infancy, this is believed to be the games market's future.

GAMES Jargon

■ CART: Short for console cartridge.

■ COIN-OP: Adapted from an arcade game — for example, the driving game Out Run.

■ BEAT-EM-UP: A game which primarily involves "beating up" opponents — for example, Double Dragon III.

■ SHOOT-EM-UP: A game which primarily involves shooting opponents — for example, Alien Storm.

■ PLATFORM: The player learns to solve problems and progresses to new levels — for example, in Sonic The Hedgehog, Super Mario Bros.

■ PUZZLE: Games which test the powers of logic — for example, Tetrix, Klax and Columns.

■ SCROLLING: The direction (horizontal or vertical) in which the game's character progresses.

Shinobi

The Silent Fury

GAME GEAR

YOU are the Ninja, and with the help of a band of Ninja Masters you have to retrieve four precious crystals, which are scattered throughout the world.

You can only enter the enemy base when you have collected all the crystals, which you can start to do at any level, except for the last.

You are fighting against evil Ninja

The Yellow Ninja: This Ninja can walk on water!!

The Pink Ninja: This one you can use to crawl on the ceiling.

The Green Ninja: This Ninja is only good for rapid attack, where he can throw unlimited numbers of stars.

If you are a Shinobi fan then this game is for you. There are cool graphics and huge bosses, which will require you to use patience and a little technique.

warriors, all poised to attack you. You have some awesome magic skills to help you and your Ninja buddies.

The Red Ninja: This is the first character, and you will have other Ninja as you defeat each boss.

The Blue Ninja: This buddy has a grappling hook to swing to hard-to-reach places, or use to fight your enemies.

DESTROY — with the

When you've beaten up one sumo wrestler too many, or you're sick of seeing dolphins do somersaults, what better way to relax than with something to exercise your mind instead of your trigger finger. Mat Broomfield thinks that Historyline fits the bill perfectly.

WHEN it was released in 1992, Battle Isle proved that a well thought-out war strategy game could still sell enough copies to justify its development.

With only a few exceptions, sequels are rarely as good as the original, whether the original was a game, a book or a film. Fortunately for us, Historyline, the long-awaited sequel to Battle Isle, is every bit as good as the original game.

As I've already mentioned, it's a war strategy game for two players (both human, or human against the computer). The game consists of a series of battles which take place on landscapes ranging in size from a couple of screens to several dozen.

These landscapes are divided into interlocking hexagons representing movement steps.

Each player starts the game at his Headquarters — lose this and you lose the game. The Headquarters also serve as a repair station for damaged units.

A player may also own one or more of the other two types of building — Depots (which are also for repairs) and Factories (where you can build new forces). There may even be additional neutral buildings available to be captured on a first-come first-served basis.

The game is based on the First World War, and therefore the types of weapons available accurately reflect those that were used at that time.

To make things even more interesting, each of the sides (French and German) has different weapons available, and these differences can lead to some surprises on the battlefield!

At the start of a game, each player will find that he has a limited selection of weapons available. In the earlier levels of the game, these will have to last you for the entire game as there are no factories. This means that each game is purely a matter of short-term combat strategy.

As you work through the levels and factories start to appear, you'll notice that the creation of new forces and repair of existing ones begins to play an increasingly important role.

The game is played in two alternating movement and attack phases. Whilst one person is executing their movement phase, you may move any or all of your forces.

Each unit, from the lowliest infantryman, to the most impressive armoured convoy, has an allowance which determines its maximum movement per round.

This figure is affected by the type of terrain being moved over, therefore an allowance of 11 might let you move 11 steps on roads, but only two through mountains or swamps.

Needless to say, different weapons have different degrees of mobility, ranging from aeroplanes which can easily cover 10 steps in a single turn, to heavy guns and bunkers which can't move at all.

Of course, all this moving about and building troops is merely a means to an end. After all of the posturing is over, your aim is the total destruction of the opposition on the field of battle. Each weapon (infantry and cavalry are also classed as weapons) consists of a number of individual units, usually six. To destroy a weapon, all units must be annihilated and there are basically four ways of doing this.

1. Destroy it with superior fire power: a battleship will soon make short work of an infantry unit for example.

2. Overrun it: even tanks can be destroyed if they're attacked by enough infantry units.

3. Destroy it from a distance: whilst many forces can only attack adjacent hexagons, certain weapons can attack from a range of two or more. When such an attack is occurring, the defender will not usually be permitted to shoot back, thus giving the attacker a totally safe combat round.

4. Destroy them with a weapon they can't defend against: infantry have no defence against planes, heavy guns can't fight infantry.

Weapons of World War I

Each time a weapon is engaged in a fight, it will gain experience which is denoted by a medal beside its name. The more experience a unit has, the more effective it is in combat.

After six fights, a weapon will gain the highest rating, an iron cross. Such weapons can be truly formidable, and should be wiped out with all speed!

Each of the 42 maps (24 in single player mode and a further set of 24 for two players) represents a fictitious battle fought some two months after the preceding one.

Thus, as the battles continue, the technology available to you improves, giving you a greater diversity of weapons, and making earlier weapons less effective.

This works very well because it helps to create a sense of 'ebb and flow' in the game as the technological advantage swings back and forth from side to side.

One of the most notable additions to this game over its predecessor is the vast number of animations included.

These are used to show everything from individual battles, to news broadcasts and are responsible for the fact that the game occupies seven disks.

Unfortunately, this means that single drive owners are going to be doing a lot of frustrating disk swapping . . .

Overall, I greatly enjoyed this game, and felt that it was much more atmospheric than Battle Isle.

The use of real weapons helps you to get into the spirit of things, and the gradual technological advances throughout the game really gives you something to look forward to.

Pity about the disk swapping, but if you install it on a hard drive, the game is blissful!

Monkey Island 2

LE CHUCK'S REVENGE

SOLUTION
BY LEE FORD

WHEN you start off in Scabb Island, pick up the sign to get the spade. When you cross the bridge you have an encounter with Largo, he will nick all your belongings, except for the spade. Keep walking until you see a ship.

Climb in through the window and quickly grab the knife and make your escape through the window. Head for Wally, the cartographer building near the other ship to the north and if you look south you'll see a pile of paper. Grab a sheet and speak to the man sitting down at his desk to find out that his name is Wally. He is a cartographer (surprise, surprise), and he is also looking for Big Whoop (yet again, another surprise).

Now, if you look on his desk you will see he puts his monocle on the desk from time to time. When he puts it down, grab it fast, and don't worry, he won't do anything as he won't be able to see and be a nervous wreck for a while. When you speak to him, he will not know that you took his monocle, just that he misplaced it on his desk and can't find it.

Anyway, go to the exit on the far west, through a door which leads to the hote. Now, use the knife on the rope (this will free the animal) and the porter will chase after him. Get some cheese squinkles from the bowl and exit the door you came in from.

Walk to the south ship. Enter this time by climbing down the stairs and muck around in there until Largo turns up. He will then have a go at the bar keeper, then spit on the wall on the west side. Use the paper in the spit to get some spit encrusted paper (I know it sound sick, but it will make sense later in the game).

Exit via the door you came in. Go to the far west exit, but also to the north, or in another way of saying it, go to the ship in the north. Pick up the bucket and the men will tell to you leave it as it's not yours. Reply, well is it yours? They will say no and this lets you take it.

Now head to the map and go to the swamp. Use the bucket in the swamp and you will now have a bucket full of gunk. Go the cemetery via the map, go north and dig up a grave, then take the bone. Now go back to the place where you got the knife, but this time enter the door on the left. Quickly grab the toupee and use the bucket of gunk with the door and move behind the dressing screen where you will see a funny screen. Go back to the place where you got the bucket and wait for Largo to leave.

Head back to the Largo's room, close the door and get the card on the back of the door. Go back to the place you last went and give the card to the man sitting down by the laundry, he will give you a piece of Largo clothing (a bra). Now you have all four ingredients of a voodoo shopping list which you will need in a minute.

Go to the swamp and climb in the coffin. Head to the voodoo shack. Once inside get the string near the skulls from the west of you, then go east and speak to the voodoo lady. Now, give her the ingredients, that's the bone, bra, paper and toupee. She will give you a voodoo doll of Largo (revenge time) and some pins.

Head for Largo's room and give it to him, literally. Use the pins in the doll and fun time is here, but alas, there is bad news and it is something to do with a certain beard of Le-Chuck's.

Go to the beach and pick up the stick on the sand. Go to the laundry place, open the box and then use the stick with the string then the cheese things with the box, when the rat goes into the box, pull the string. Open the box, and hey presto, scared rat, take it. Go through the window in the south ship and use the rat in the pot to the west of you and then boiled stewed rat (yyyyuummmmyyy).

Exit into the bar and speak to the man and ask for the special food made by the cook. The bar keeper then throw a fruity and fires the poor old cook. Speak to the bar keeper and ask to eat the nice rat haired soup !!!not!!! No, ask the bar keeper for the job and take it now money money money.

Go to the map and go to Peninsula at the bottom left hand side of the island. Head to the boat house, charter the ship, and give him Wally monicole.

Premier Manager Cheats

By dialling any of the following numbers into the telephone, you may improve your team's capabilities dramatically. These numbers may be entered as many times as you want. However, these cheats will always work on the first player in a particular position. Therefore, if you want a strong strike force, try entering the corresponding number, but remember to move your new striker out of the first attacking position before re-entering the cheat. Managers will also discover that the cheat changes the player's name. To combat this, simply use the change name facility and enter your favourite players.

Naturally, may would-be Premier Managers don't want their name changed to something Cheat. There is a way around this, but it does take some time to implement. When starting a new game, enter four names; your own and three dummy ones. Enter the ROF Cheat on the three dummy teams, thus giving their players stats of 99 and a balance of £20,000,000. Sell your players to the dummy teams for £20,000,000 a time and then buy players from the dummy teams for the minimum asking price. Once you've completed all the necessary transactions, make each fictional manager visit their board and hand in their resignation. Eventually you'll have a team that comprises of top-class players and a bank balance in excess of £60,000,000!

ARCADE GAME TIPS

GENERAL TIPS

On the title screen type "Goldfish" to activate the cheat mode. Whilst you are on the title pages pressing F1-F6 will allow you to start the game from any world you want.

Once in the game the cheat mode has the following effects: Pressing 1) gives Zool a shield. 2) Skips to the next stage. 3) Skips to the next world. 4) Ends Zool's current life.

SWEET WORLD

1.1 Zool's flying sword attack can destroy some lollipops to gain extra bonuses.

The first wall to the right of the second restart point can be punched through to gain a super bonus.

Just above the second restart point there is also a vertically moving platform, jump on this to gain access to an extra life.

1.2 Try to complete this level as easily as possible, if you pick up a shield move as fast as you can towards the exit.

Watch out for large drops they normally have spiked bottoms.

1.3 You will encounter a series of boxes with Hit written on them. Hit the first and third boxes to gain bonuses.

There are two possible ways to defeat this level, you may take on the end Boss, in which case the best tactic in dealing with him is to stand at the left of the screen, leaping up to avoid his bombs whilst shooting him as fast as you can.

The second way to defeat the level is to let your timer run down to 50 at which point the first right hand wall at the start of the level can be punched through, this allows you into a secret room containing bonuses, extra time, two extra lives and an exit to complete the world.

MUSIC WORLD

2.1 Look out for the small remote controls as they are the restart points for the Music World.

Use Zool's flying sword attack to destroy the speakers and gain extra bonuses.

Jump up into the bell and you can use it as a shield to get past a lot of baddies, just press fire whilst inside to break out.

Hidden level ... Directly above the first restart point (about a screen above) is an invisible entrance to the first shoot 'em up bonus level.

Hidden level ... The first piano you encounter doesn't appear to do anything, however if you play the 'Close Encounters' tune you will enter the second shoot 'em up level. (For those not too sure what the tune is, use the grey, white, black, red, green notes in that order).

2.2 It is very important on this level to be able to use the piano's, so take your time getting used to hitting the right notes. If you make a mistake jump off the piano and move away a little then start again.

On the first piano you come across use the brown, yellow, red, orange and green notes to create a large note over the piano, jump onto this to enter a hidden room which contains bonuses and a new set of notes. Enter these notes on the same piano: brown, orange, green and dark blue, to gain an extra life.

When you reach the next piano (which is located at the end of the level) enter these notes: red, yellow, light blue, dark blue. Another large note will appear, jump on this to be carried to the exit.

2.3 Try to keep going as fast as possible on this level as you don't have much time.

On long runs use Zool's sliding attack to kill the baddies.

To kill the boss monster you must shoot the guitar whilst its eye is open. You must stay near the left edge of the screen dodging the lightning bolts and destroying the fruit that is fired as you.

FRUIT WORLD

3.1 Watch out for the bananas that act as restart points. You can gain extra bonuses by crouching down and pulling radishes from the ground and also by cutting the tops off some carrots. Stand still and keep destroying falling grapes to replenish health. Try and work your way along the top of the level as near the end you will find an extra life.

If you find the exit but do not have enough bonuses to complete the level work your way back and look for a slightly different route.

3.2 Punch through the first right hand wall to gain lots of bonus points.

Remember, to bounce on the can lids to get to extra bonuses and gain an extra life.

You will come across a hole filled with bonuses in a V shape, punch through the left hand wall to gain extra bonuses.

3.3 Punch through the first low right hand wall to gain bonuses. At the next big left hand wall (by a tree) punch it for even more bonuses.

Continue on until you find a series of fruit cans, bouncing on the lid will propel you to gain an extra life.

To kill the Boss, first of all shoot the alarm clock (which is indestructible) to wake the banana up. When attacked try to stay to the left of the screen whilst shooting the banana. If you die while fighting the banana (a likely occurrence) you can get back to him from the last restart point by just running right and shooting as fast as you can, this should take care of all the enemies in between and keep Zool safe.

Remember even with the banana destroyed the alarm clock will remain so don't get caught out.

TOOL WORLD

4.1 Watch out for the blocks of wood with nails in, these are the restart points for the Tool World.

The darker shades of wood invariably lead to lots of bonus points.

Hidden level ... Go right from the start of the level until you come to the first wooden platform, take Zool to the top and jump left from the far left hand edge of the wood to enter the third shoot 'em up level.

4.2 It can be very hard to gain enough bonuses on this level so try not to miss any you see, especially large groups.

4.3 Quite possibly one of the hardest levels in the game. The best bet is to search the beginning part of the level for as many bonuses as possible as they get much more scarce the further you progress.

When you finally meet the Boss Monster go for his eyes as quickly as possible, speed is very important here as the drill takes out the ground beneath Zool. If you've got the energy it can be worthwhile to take a couple of hits in order to get several attacks in on the drill.

TOY WORLD

5.1 The restart points for this level are nice recognisable HIT signs. Watch out for low fast moving clouds and the tanks which will fire at you. Also remember that you can only stand on the red and green blocks, not the blue or orange.

Hidden level ... Travel right from the start of the level until you come to the giant bonus panda. Jump onto the left hand blue column and jump left, you should hit the hidden entrance to access the fourth and final shoot 'em up level.

5.2 Very similar to level 1. Basically just be careful and remember to use the restart points and you should find this quite an easy level.

5.3 Be very careful about dropping down any gaps as they could well be spiked.

At one point you will arrive at an area containing several very similar looking holes, drop down the sixth hole to progress. To kill the Robot Boss shoot at his head but watch out when he opens his chest as he will shoot back.

FAIR WORLD

6.1 Again the restart points are well marked and look similar to those of level one.

Try to let the Hammer Monsters hit the base of the bell machine and if you've positioned Zool correctly he will be carried rapidly upwards.

6.2 If you come to a dead end on this level then hang around awhile and you may well see a balloon come into sight after a few moments which will carry Zool onwards.

Also if you can't see where to jump next take the biggest jump you can, there may well be a platform some way away.

6.3 If you see bonuses you can't reach see if a balloon is around to lift you up.

To complete the Zool arcade machine: Start the machine and keep jumping on the red button, when an obstacle appears walk onto the white button to jump over it, then revert back to jumping on the red button. When you have completed the machine you will gain three extra lives.

To destroy the final Boss, the evil clown, stand on the first platform duck down and shoot him in his large central eye.

The vast outer world is far from friendly.

Uncover the secrets of the villagers and buy provisions to sustain you on your journey.

The atmosphere grips you as the wonder and magic of AP2 unfolds around you.

SWORD OF HOPE 2

This is the Gameboy at its best!

Here is the game you have been waiting for all you RPG fans. Theo sealed away the Dragon of Darkness five years ago, and since then the kingdom has flourished. Then one day, at the ancient temple protected by the Collin Clan, a giant red bolt shot into the sky from the old temple. This was the beginning of a terrifying prophecy.

You play the part of young Theo, Prince of the Kingdom, and you have got to find out what has happened and put it right.

You have to take your companions and save your people who are once again threatened by the evil forces that have started to spread over your land.

This is a grand quest with many small adventures which really require you to think out the solution yourself. You have to keep your wits about you.

This game is not for the squeamish as there is plenty of killing, such as the woodland creatures in the beginning when you go to the weapons shop.

So grab your sword and head for the temple, but stay on guard, and keep those little grey cells working.

This is the Gameboy at its best!

YOSHI IS BACK!!!

Another great game for puzzle game lovers. In this game Mario is a baker and he is making five different types of cookies. You have to get all the same cookies in a line, and you receive points for any completed rows. Try the versus mode, this is for two players racing against each other, and the clock, to get the most rows of cookies.

To play — you move the cursor on to any of the cookies, then scroll up or across to try to line up the cookies. A new row will appear from the top and the side of the screen.

WITH his size 13 feet and his immense beer belly, Chuck Rock is not your average caveman, he has a problem because his wife, Ophelia, happens to be the prettiest cavewoman around and is fancied by quite a few other cavemen.

One particular problem is Gary Gritter, who one fateful day decides to kidnap Ophelia.

So, while Chuck is lazily watching TV Ophelia gets snatched, which I might add does not please Chuck, especially as he has to be disturbed from his snooze and get her back.

Chuck has to bash his way to Gary's cave, using rocks, his belly, or his odorific feet. He can try to get some of the animals on his side to save Ophelia.

So, come on Chuck . . . get to it!

GALACTIC WARRIOR RATS

Summit Software — £9.99

Review by Martin Betts

OH dear, what a stupid title! Galactic Warrior Rats? Is this one of those in-jokes for bored executives within Summit Software?

This has to be the most ridiculously titled game since the classic "Dr. Plummets House of Flux", which caused major embarrassment to many when they asked for it in their local software emporium. (I can imagine — Ed).

Stupid titles aside, what is Galactic Warrior Rats about? Well, let's face it, the title was stupid and the scenario is equally so.

A vast supply ship, called Hornsea, has crashed on the (also ridiculously titled) planet, Smeaton Five. The ship's central reactor has exploded, mutating three rats left aboard (yawn) the Hornsea.

The rats soon discover that Smeaton 5 is so polluted, that it's due for destruction. The only chance for survival is to storm the giant computer that has been set for self-destruct. Unfortunately, it's guarded by maniac killer robots (wake up at the back), and it's going to take some skill to stop the computer from blowing up . . . stupid, or what?

The game is actually a viewed-from-above, sprawling, multi-directional, maze and shoot 'em up game. Those old enough to remember Xenon, and the gameplay when using the tank, will have an idea what Galactic Warrior Rats is like. Unfortunately, unlike Xenon, all the action is confined to the tank pod in "Rats", which is, frankly, a bit of a disappointment on the gameplay front.

The gameplay is pretty damn simple; shoot the baddies, collect the keys or credits left behind, shoot the baddies, etc. All very standard. The first level had me hooked to begin with — it was simple fun, and everything was there for me to keep playing.

As I progressed from level to level, I noticed that there is no attempt to try to inject new life into the simple gameplay, and the five levels don't hold anyone's interest for that long. I was left waiting for a level that had a twist in the gameplay that would keep me glued to the game.

Unfortunately, this never happened, and the game quickly lost interest.

The graphics, especially the backgrounds, hardly change throughout the entire game, just the odd change of colour and floor pattern.

I'll give the game marks for how colourful it is, but when the sprites are as small as they are, the enemy fire is even smaller, and it soon becomes lost in the background during frantic shooting.

Everything's neat and tidy in the graphic department, yet we've seen it all before, many times before.

"Rats" is only a budget game, which Summit claims to be at full price standard. It's a brave attempt to bring full price quality to the budget scene, but it still looks, and plays, like a piece of budget software.

Summit's press release says "Rats with a rrr-attitude", unfortunately it's more like "Rats with a rrr-repetitive gameplay problem".

PC owners needn't hold their breath for the PC version out in late April.

WE all know Sierra for creating games for computers, like the King's Quest series, and the Leisure Suit Larry's.

Sierra have several parts to it like the Dynamix series. Now a new one has just arrived, the Screen Antics collection including Johnny Castaway.

My first instinct was that it's agame, but it's not. It's a screen saver — that's when you leave a computer for a while and something happens, in this case cartoon animation.

Here is the story line: Johnny Castaway is stranded on a small desert island and wants to escape. Here is a letter from Johnny:

S.O.S.
Stop Everything!
Only When You Quit Working,
Do I Have A Chance To Escape This Foresaken Island.
So Please, Do It For Me — Kill Some Time To Save An Old Salt!!!
Sincerely, Johnny Castaway.

Johnny has many attempts to escape, here are some examples:

When a plane comes, he throws a coconut at it, to get some attention, and blows it up.

He falls asleep when people are around the corner in a boat.

He goes fishing and catches things like fish, crabs, knives and guns.

Once when fishing he catches a shark and goes water skiing, and nearly dies.

There are also options of loading a different background, eg put a picture of a Mutant killing someone in the background whilst he is trying to escape, or a cat etc.

There is also the option to turn the sound on and off and have a password so if you get so far you can go back to it later, or disable it, or re-enable it whenever you want.

The only real problem is that you MUST have Windows 3.1 and not any other version and you need sound blasters to operate the sound.

On the whole Johnny Castaway is worth getting. It's better to have this than the same old screen and there is eight hours of different footage, so that alone makes it worthwhile, but it is difficult to install.

DO you want to take a trip through 16 different time periods with the Time Gal, in hot pursuit of the notorious Time Bandit?

Travel to the pre-historic era and do battle with the dinosaurs, then jump into the Stone Age, where cavemen chase you waving their clubs, before you transport yourself to the great Coliseum, where you find yourself fighting off the gladiators and tigers.

Why not then move on to the renaissance or a world war, or maybe take part in a desert storm. Or you can take yourself into the future in the final battles against aliens, robots and ray guns.

You make your own decisions, like move up, down or fire your blaster, and on other occasions you have to choose between several choices of action, after using the time medallion.

The randomness of the game forces you to keep alert, and after completing an area, you get a password that will allow you to play back the scene you have just finished, and see all your near misses.

There are two warning light indicators available to you. On normal or easy, the side indicators tell you when and which way to push the pad or fire button.

On hard, you can only use the on-screen flasher, ie, your gun flashing yellow means push the fire button, or if a door to your left flashes yellow, push left.

Any false move means your death, so keep your eye on the tell-tale light indicators.

GET ready for the latest side-scrolling action game from Atari Lynx.

As Redd Ace, strap on your rocket pack, grab your blaster, and blast your way through several levels of mechanical menaces. Your rifle can fire a limited number of powerful shots or an unlimited number of standard ones.

Unfortunately your rocket pack has only a limited amount of fuel, so you have to use it sparingly to fly through the more difficult levels. If you do run out, you can always jump. If your force field runs out you could get killed, so you must replenish it from your shield icon.

You can find various items on each level, which can make your rifle blaster more powerful, but they can only be used at certain times.

Penetrating beam ; powerful laser beam
Alpha shell ; unlimited amount
Polecat ; destroys the nearest hatcher silo
Incendiary ; a ball of flame destroys targets
Power Leech ; disables arc pods temporarily
Digital Disruptor ; use with extreme caution

Watch out for the pre-historic beast which can emerge from its shell and shoot power waves at you.

All you Lynx owners, get blasting!

GAMEBOY

THE destruction of the Death Star did not please the Empire, and they are not very happy with the rebels, especially Luke Skywalker.

Darth Vader plans to use Han Solo and Princess Leia as bait to capture Skywalker and turn him to the dark side of the force.

Master Yoda has taught Luke the powers of The Force which will help him in his quest. Luke can use his Snow Speeder and X-wing piloting skills as he battles against the giant imperial AT-AT's, tie fighters and cloud cars.

On some levels of the game Luke can pilot other vehicles, such as a Tauntaun, which is like a kangaroo-like creature, in the Hoth Ice Planet.

To use the various powers of The Force, Luke has to find various icons. There is the light sabre, blaster, graphic eye, health, reflect shots, levitate, super jump and speed.

If you are a Star Wars fan then this game is for you. All the main characters of the film are here — Princess Leia, Ben Kenobi and Han Solo.

You will hear the familiar soundtrack from the film during your adventures, each level having a different tune.

SNOW SPEEDER

HERALDED by industry watchers as one of the most ambitious multimedia undertakings around, publisher Virgin Games and creator Trilobyte, are working towards the release of the Interactive Drama — The 7th Guest at the end of March.

This is the first CD-ROM-based interactive computer game to incorporate 3D graphics, live action, speech, and a musical soundtrack.

Based on an original story and screenplay written by Matthew Costello, the first Trilobyte Interactive Drama to be released by Virgin Games features a record-setting 36 minutes of full motion ghostly video and dialogue recorded by real actors and a musical soundtrack by the "Fat Man", of Wing Commander II fame.

Eight primary actors and about 15 extras were cast to play out the story of Henry Stauf, an evil toymaker whose world holds a sinister secret.

When a series of children die in mysterious circumstances after buying his toys, the local community begins to ask questions and the plot thickens when Stauf himself meets an untimely demise.

The game begins when six guests are anonymously summoned to the late toymaker's remote hilltop mansion, now eerily vacant.

"The 7th Guest is like a real movie — it's a roller-coaster ride," says Trilobyte's Graeme Devine. The big difference is, he says, that the player is given a free rein to follow the story's development any way he pleases, following characters and exploring the mystery of the giant house.

"The mansion has 22 rooms, and each room has its own secret and a puzzle to solve." In much the same style as horror classic The Shining, The 7th Guest has been designed to constantly hit the player with a combination of straightforward movie-style shocks and more general eerie unsettling imagery.

"There are parts of this game that are going to scare the player to death!" Devine boasts.

Two years of painstaking graphical renderings has resulted in a true 3D environment, allowing the player to walk around the mansion with total freedom and watch as scenery scrolls and rotates perfectly around as the player changes his point of view.

According to Devine, due to The 7th Guest's groundbreaking use of full frame animation for the CD-ROM and the addition of Morph renderings (as seen in the movies Terminator 2 and Star Trek 6), this game is so huge it would fill not less than 3,000 360K conventional floppy discs.

"Each of the rooms in the house took us at least a month to produce," reveals Trilobyte's Creative Director Rob Landeros.

RAMNA 2½

Ramna 2½ is a bit like Street Fighter 2. Like Street Fighter 2 it's 16 meg and it's brilliant. Also like Street Fighter 2 it's addictive and if that's not all, you can be 12, yes 12, different characters, more than Street Fighter 2 and they all have at least two special moves each to activate. They must have combinations like pressing punch fast with two different characters. You can do a super fast punch a bit like the hundred hand slap or by pressing down on the directional pad in the air. Y makes a character throw cards or does special moves with others or by holding B and then pressing < > and then letting go does special moves a bit like sonic booms.

The game itself is brilliant and has four skill levels: easy, normal, hard and red, weird hey and has several different modes which are normal like SF2 or 2 player vs or 2 player Rumble like in WWF's survival series and it's good fun as well.

First of all you can only be 10 until you complete it 1 to get an ending you must complete it twice.

FANTASTIC PRIZE IN THIS EXCLUSIVE COMPETITION

YES, you could win a superb holiday for FOUR people at the new Euro-Disney resort, just by entering our simple competition.

In this and the next issue of Game Mania, we are publishing the last two questions. Answer these all correctly and you could be on your way to Euro-Disney with your family.

The prize includes flights, accommodation and free entry to Euro-Disney itself, where you will find the best of Disneyland (California) and Walt Disney World (Florida).

See all your favourite Disney characters and enjoy the most amazing rides and attractions ever gathered in one place. It's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

But first you have to answer this month's question: In which state is Hollywood?

If you believe it is in California, then dial 0839 994467; if you believe it is in Florida, then dial 0839 994468; if you believe it is in New York, then dial 0839 994469.

Then leave your own name and address.

The maximum cost of a call is less than £2 — but please ask the permission of your parents (or the person who pays the phone bill) before calling.

Next month Game Mania will print the last question. Everyone who answers all three questions correctly will be entered into the draw for this super Euro-Disney holiday.

So start thinking.

THE VOYAGE BEYOND GRE

ACTUALLY, I don't really want to review this game. I mean it's HUGE! Where do I start? In fact, it's so huge I'll review it one sentence! Space Crusade — The Voyage Beyond: it's big, it's bad!

It's damned hard to review, so buy it! Right, I'm off down the pub (Oil Come back here, or your'e fired! — Ed).

Well, I'd better spill the beans on this Space Crusade business. Apparently, man has gone on expeditions in space, called the "great expansion". Unfortunately, man stumbles across a "thing" (sorry to use such technical terms, but bear with me) called The Warp, which unleashes the ancient alien evil of Chaos.

Chaos is taking the expedition ships, and infesting them with devastating alien hordes. And you, as a space commander, have to go in these ships and complete various missions against Chaos. (Please somebody lock up these scenario writers.

If anyone you knew wrote this type of jibberish, you'd get them institutionalised, wouldn't you?).

Each space commander has control over a marine chapter, which contains four other marines. You can select the team you wish from a choice of three; they are all basically the same, apart from differing types of small additional equipment (such as grenades, etc) can be held by the differing teams.

All marines can hold a choice of destructive weapons, which you allocate before your chosen mission. There are heavy weapons such as missile launchers and plasma guns, and lightweight "bolter" weapons which have the firepower of a spatula, but in hand-to-hand combat terms they're a bit of a winner.

The commander is the key member of the team; he's got the most life-points, he always carries the most powerful weapon and his radar also covers the largest area. The radar and your weapons can

ASTE THE SCUM!

DIBLE 22 MISSIONS

CRUSADE The Beyond

ALIN GRAPHICS

REVIEW BY

be utilised during your turn. You can move all the marines, or you can just stand in a corner and whimper, it's up to you how you use your turn.

Inevitably you're going to bump into aliens and have to fight them. You choose your target then decide whether you're going to fight hand-to-hand or use your gun.

Destroying the enemy depends on the power of the weapon, and the armour of the alien; the computer figures this out for you. During the fights, the action switches from the overhead 2D map to an animated 3D isometric scene, which is excellent.

The change between 2D to 3D is very slick, and brings variety to the otherwise adequate graphics department. The 3D sections are where all the good graphics are: watching exploding aliens after an attack is disturbingly satisfying; and when a marine dies, you see either a body in a pool of blood, or most amusingly, see two boots smouldering on the floor!

This is basically what the first "Crusade" brought you, but The Voyage Beyond brings more missions, more aliens, more weapons and more engrossing gameplay. Even if you have the first "Crusade", the expansion disks are well worth buying.

The Voyage Beyond has some of the most engrossing and addictive gameplay ever. You can get lost for hours in its complexities. The small, but well detailed graphics, and the good sound, FX help to make this game a winner. If you haven't played an R.P.G. before, this is for you, and if you're a hardened fan, I'd still recommend it because of its great difficulty curve. This is Space Crusade with huge gold knobs on.

CHEAT GUIDE

Instead of just picking one marine chapter, pick all three for your one-player games. Kit out one chapter with heavy weaponry, another with hand-to-hand weapons and keep one as a back-up. This way you might actually get somewhere!

FATAL FURY

TO take control of South Town, Geese Howard killed the "King of the Fighters" Jeff Bogard, some years ago. At his father's death, Terry, Jeff's eldest son, hid in the alleyways of South Town learning how to survive in a city gone bad.

While the younger son Andy decided to go to Japan and learn the most deadly of the martial arts. The third fighter in this game is Joe, a friend of the sons, who had learned the art of kick boxing, and was always ready for a challenge.

Fatal Fury is an intensive fighting game full of numerous characters with different techniques and special moves, and it needs a high level of technique and strategy, although there is an easier level for newcomers.

Come on, make your choice of fighter and fulfill your destiny!!

BEST OF THE BEST

CHAMPIONSHIP KARATE

HERE is a great fighting game for the S.N.E.S. You control a man who has been learning karate from the age of six and ever since, his ambition in life has been to become the best of the best, in Karate.

Here is a bit more about the game:

Twenty years after you first started Karate at the age of six, you enter the Karate World Circuit and have much to learn before becoming the Grand Master.

You start off as the 16th best karate fighter in the world and have a long way to go to achieve your goal.

Once your skills improve, you can enter the Kumate (full contact) and only then, you can become the best, or die!

Anyway, you start off by choosing your moves, then you have an option to fight in the ring, or train. The training consists of three events, which are sparring (to gain better resi), the bag (to gain strength), and kick pads (to gain your reflex power).

Resi = resistance, the more you have, the harder it is to knock you down

Reflex = better parries

Sparring = gain knowledge

Bag = gain strength

You can challenge anyone and win cups and medals, and eventually, you will get an invitation to the Kumate.

The game is brilliant and you can even change your moves if you get bored with them. The sound is great and the graphics too. A must for beat-'em-up fans like me.

DOCTOR TOOTH WEISCRACKER'S COMPUTER SECTS CLINIC

A H DARLINKS, so good of you to join me. Let me introduce myself. I'm Dr Tooth and in conjunction with Mr Motorhead Scuzz-bucket, I bring you my Computer Sects Clinic, because I'm sure some of you computer freaks out there are having a difficult time.

Don't get me wrong, I only help in medical matters for the sect of people who own computers.

Any cheats or tips are dealt with by my good mechanoid buddy, Robobrain. For instance, I received the following letter from a dejected Tracey from Southend, who seems to have a major problem (apart from being an Essex girl!). Isn't life cruel?

It read:

JET SET WILLY

Dear Dr Tooth,

Can you help me? My boyfriend, who I've managed to keep for two weeks now, has got something called JET SET WILLY and keeps getting up in the middle of the night to play with it. What do you suggest I do?

Well, Trace (can I call you that?). What's the problem! If he, as you say, keeps getting up for a little JET SET WILLY (ah! little's the problem!), can I suggest you join him for a BIG night of fun. That is, if it's capable for two to play with his JET SET WILLY at the same time (knowing he's an Essex man though, maybe not!). Still you can always ditch him. I'm surprised it lasted so long. What did you do, win him as some kind of booby prize?!

Also joining me this month down in the clinic's rest room for a cosy chat and a luke warm tea 'n' biscuits are my guests, Marlon Mango, who will be talking about his latest film "Last Mango in Paris — The Fruity View", and Take Splat's Navel Orange on his life as a goatee-bearded pop star. We'll also be hearing from our star gazer Doris Port-Vales about future destinies and the computer star sign of the month. But first a commercial break.

"Does your front door let the draught through like a force nine hurricane? Is your table lop-sided because you accidentally cut off half an inch too much from the fourth leg? Yes? Then you need the new, micro-sized ZX81. It makes one hell of a good wedge to fit into all shapes and sizes.

The New ZX81. Trash or what!"

Welcome back. What can I say? The old ones are always the best! Now before I speak to Marlon, a short note from Eddie, age two, from London:

AM I GOING MAD?

Dear Tooth,

I keep hearing ECCOs of dolphins. Am I going mad?

Firstly, it's doctor young man. Secondly, you're a little young to write aren't you?

Right, ECCOs of dolphins. No, nothing to worry about. You should start worrying if you begin to DANCE WITH WOLVES like that Kevin Costnuffin. He's mad. Thanks for the piccy! (Three eyes an all!)

Now, Marlon, your new film — "Last Mango in Paris — The Fruity View". What's it about?

"Well . . . bk.k.Dr.kk . . . Oh excuse me, that biscuit was yucky."

Wait till you try the tea!

"Yes, Last Mango in Paris is a very fruity film and very saucy in some places. I play Mr Mango as myself and I'm the last of the great Mangoiose family left. I've inherited this greengrocers in Paris. There's plenty of sex among the avocados and spicy goings on which I can't divulge any further due to the family element of this magazine."

Oh shame . . . get lost then. Right, Take Splat's Navel Orange. So Mr thrillo with a brillo. Tea?

"Fanks! . . . SLURP . . . SLURP . . . Jeeze, was that tea? I've tasted better sock water than that".

Ah, so you drink socker water. Often?

"Goodbye! Hold up Marlon, I'll share a cab with you . . ."

Well, that appears to be the end of my guests. So here's Doris Port-Vales with her computer predictions for the future. Doris.

"Thank you Tooth. One thing for sure, the tea can only get better! I see plenty of flower orientated games to be released this spring, with the likes of Dozey Daises and Chopper Chrysanthemums Conquer Canterbury becoming instant hits. There are, of course, the odd weeds among the pack, notably Prudence and Pansy and Weed On, which is quite literally the only thing to be done to it. Hardware will remain hard and if you've got trouble with your floppy disks, write to the good Dr Tooth Weiskraker. The chart below is for the Pisces computer freak."

PISCES

Make a splash of today. Don't fret over lost soles. It wasn't your fault that the freezer was defrosting at the time and you had to ditch your plans of a fish supper. Dry wet hands with a towel. If your name's JAMES POND you're like a fish in water. With all this water about, Thirsty is a good day, but steer well clear of Fryday as you may of had your chips!

Thank you Doris. Finally, to close this month, can I say that the Computer Sects Clinic will always be open for your ailments. So keep WRITING or DRAWING in. A problem solved is a problem you shouldn't of had in the first place!

Next, whenever live from America, via spy satellite (if it's working), we interview husband and wife team Lime Juice Willis and Denim Moore on their different lifestyles (his of soft drinks, hers of trousers), and Dental Washington on his teeth and whether they hamper an actor's success.

MEGADRIVE — SONICE THE HEDGEHOG

Stage select. From the title screen press UP, DOWN, LEFT, RIGHT, A, C, B And C. You should hear a small noise to indicate that the cheat has worked. Press A and START simultaneously to get a stage select. Simply highlight the one you want to start on.

Alternative stage select. Again, from the title screen, press UP, DOWN, DOWN, DOWN, LEFT and RIGHT. Hold down A and press START to get a useful stage select screen.

Invincibility and character select. Press UP, C, DOWN, C, DOWN, C, DOWN, C, LEFT, C and RIGHT on the title screen. Hold A and press START. If the score goes funny (that is, displays strange characters), the cheat has worked. You can change Sonic into another character by pressing B. Pressing C makes the change permanent. Pausing the game, followed by pressing B or C, gets you into slow motion mode.

Speedy Sonic demo. If you want to have a blast during Sonic's demo, hold down buttons A, B and C to make him run at super speed. Press and release the same buttons to make him go nuts. This also works during the end credits. Finally, try to grab the invincibility monitor and something special will happen.

Chaos emeralds. This will allow you to pick up all the Chaos emeralds before you start the game. Combine this with the stage select and you can complete the game with all emeralds. Go to the stage select screen and choose Special Zone. Once you've obtained the Chaos emerald, press reset before you enter the Green Hill Zone. When Sonic is wagging his finger, press A and START again to go to the stage select. It will still be set to Special Zone, but if you press START you will enter a different Special Zone. So pick up the new emerald and repeat this process till you have six and proceed to the Green Hill Zone (without resetting) and complete the game as normal. You can keep trying to pick up the emeralds as often as possible because the number you have collected is retained when you reset.

ADAMS FAMILY

Before going into the freezer room get the Frankenstein potion, this will allow you to walk through baddies without losing energy.

SNES

ADAMS FAMILY

Use the password 21112 for 100 lives, five hearts and a sword.

STREETFIGHTER II

For player vs player do the following. When the Capcom logo appears press down R, UP, L, Y, B, X and A.

FINAL FIGHT

To get an option screen, hold down the L and R keys and press start on the title screen.

SUPER STAR WARS

Here is a way to find different codes in the game, and a sound test screen. First choose the start game option from the title screen, then go into the first level. Now press and hold Y, B, X, A together. While holding these press the START button. You can change the music to what you want, as you have the sound test screen. Press START and go back to the level. If you do the same trick again and go back into the sound test you will see the words under the sound test have changed. Each time you get different messages, and after several times these messages will reveal two codes. The first one will tell you to press X, B, B, A, Y for five continues. The second one will tell you to press Y, Y, X, X, A, B, X, A for the light saber. To work these codes, turn your SNES off and then on again. Do the code of your choice at the title screen when the "start game" and "option menu" choice comes up. You will hear the Jawa yell if it has worked. If you reset the game and try these tricks, they will not work. You must turn the power off and on again for them to work properly. If you use these you will get through the game easier.

To get 99 lives. In the land of the sand people you will go through many caverns and cliffs. Get to the first major cliff and jump across it by way of the floating rocks. At the end of the second major cliff, you will see another set of floating rocks. This is the area in which the trick will take place. Sand people will be chasing you from the left side of the screen. Once you are at this point, fall off the cliff and push left on the control pad. You will not fall to your death, but will catch the edge of a cliff near the bottom of the screen. There will be an opening on the left. Rocks will be falling, and you enter the small cave, shoot all around the cave, Tons of 1-ups will appear near the top part of this section. Jump up on the small platform in the middle of the cavern to collect the extra lives that appear. When you can't collect any more run to the right and fall off the edge of the cliff. When you start again, repeat this for up to 99 lives.

KRUSTY'S SUPER FUNHOUSE

Here is how to rid a room of the rats, in any room that Krusty has two movable blocks. Position the first block near a wall, wait until the rats are now between the block and the wall. While standing on the first block release the block Krusty is carrying and trap the rats. Should the trapped area be the width of one block the rats compress into a single rat.

MAGIC SWORD

There is a magic door on the 34th floor that gives a direct warp to the hydra. The door is found by vapourising the two blocks, keep an eye on the pillars. Hit the fourth pair of pillars on the left to activate the switch which will make the door appear.

SUPER PANG

For A level select option, press L, R, R, L, UP then DOWN on the game select screen. You can now choose which stage and which country you want to visit.

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG 2

Go to the options by pressing the pad down twice at the title screen. Make sure you are playing "Sonic and Tails". Go into the game and using controller two, move the pad in any direction, or press any button and you will see that you can move Tails anywhere on the screen without Sonic. You can work as a team and finish the game, and as Tails cannot die, you can use him to defeat the bosses, so that Sonic can avoid them. If you leave Tails alone you will go back to one player mode.

On the options screen go to sound test. Select tunes 19, 65, 09 and 17. Then go to the screen with Sonic and Tails on it and press A and START. Now you will get a level select.

SAGAIA

For a level select press C, A, C, B, C, A, B, A, B, C, A, C and START.

EUROPEAN CLUB SOCCER

Enter the password THREE SHREDDED WHEAT into the password area. Each word should be placed on a new line. Now when the game is played, the players have a Pele kick. They can kick a ball at great speed and score goals from long range. To use the kick simply do a hard kick as it says in the instructions, now it should be much harder.

HERZOG ZWEI

Can't get very far? Then try these passwords:

JLJOIGJBOKO LHJKNFAMA JLJOIGLAOKN

LAKDERS vs CELTICS

MARBLE MADNESS

Go to the options screen and set the following: TEST FX2 and TEST MUSIC 5. The player may now move the cursor to select level and start from any level.

GAME GEARSONIC 2

For a level select: hold down buttons 1, 2, and START during the intro. Keep holding them down and circle the joy pad clockwise with your finger till you hear a ring. Take your fingers off the buttons, press START and you'll get the level select.

TERMINATOR

Go to the main Terminator screen. Hold down button 2 and press button 1, the screen will turn black for a few seconds. While the screen is black do the following on the joy pad, LEFT, LEFT, UP, UP, RIGHT, RIGHT, DOWN, DOWN. Two O's should appear on the screen, the level can now be selected by pressing LEFT and RIGHT on the joy pad.

NINJA GAIDEN

Here are a few level codes:

SEGA CDCOBRA COMMAND

Go to the title screen where you can choose either game start or config mode. Press UP, DOWN, LEFT, RIGHT, DOWN and then START on controller one. On the config screen you will be able to select new difficulty levels, including '2training'. Choose this option and go back to the title screen. Choose the game start option. Play the game as usual. When you die, you will start back at the place you left off, and whatever killed you is now out of the way.

BLACK HOLE ASSAULT

If you are having a difficult time defeating your opponents in this robot game, try this cool cheat. When the title screen comes up, and your options are in front of you, choose the "name entry" option. The keyboard will then appear. Put in your name as Bignet. Exit this screen and when you are asked to select your name, choose the name you just entered, Bignet. In the game, you can fight as normal, but if you find yourself getting beat, then take controller two and press the START button. This will instantly kill your opponent. The earlier you kill off your opponent, the better your score will be, because the timer adds points to your score. This will work for every enemy in the game.

You can play a game resembling the classic game, Pong. Go to the name entry option and put in the new name Azy on the keyboard screen. Go back and choose operation BHA on the title screen. When asked for your name, highlight and choose the name you just put in, Azy. The screen will change into a new title screen called Black Ball Assault. Press START, and you will be put into an arena with another opponent and a bouncing ball. This two player game is like the game, Pong, except there is a moving barrier in the middle of the screen, and you can shoot the ball to make it go faster and throw off your opponent.

GAME BOY GAME GENIE

NOW AVAILABLE

Battle Toads

You are Zitz, a Battle Toad whose slimy sidekicks have been kidnapped by the evil Dark Queen and imprisoned on Armagedda. It's no good advertising in the local paper for replacements — you'll have to rescue the web-fotted warriors yourself (with the help of these amphibian Game Genie codes, of course!).

GAME BOY

BATLETOADS £24.99

This game is the best. Just brill. Full of fun and frolics. You play one of the kicking toady dudes in an attempt to rescue his buddies from the Dark Queen. Loads of funny animation and with more varied gameplay sequences than you could shake a very large stick at. This is the one. 99%

CASTLEVANIA II £19.99

Brill version of the classic Dracula hunting game. The little screen and the monotone graphics tend to be less of a problem than you might think and the game chugs along at a fair old pace. Good stuff. 98%

FINAL FANTASY ADVENTURE £24.99

A mini Zelda. Truly huge graphic jaunt through lands of mysticism. A superb game that is the first true Game Boy adventure of any worth. An essential buy that will give hours of gameplay. 98%

MEGA MAN £21.99

One of Game Boy's start cartridge heroes of all time. 98%

SUPER MARIO LAND II £24.99

A bit easy. Supposed to be the biggest hand held cart ever — truly huge. Will sell by the bucket load. 98%

MONOPOLY £25.99

Very good game with the choice of up to eight computer opponents of varying degrees of ability or a human competitor. This really works — a classic. 97%

SUPER SCRABBLE £24.99

Superb. Simple to play. Various levels of challenge and totally addictive. Will be a classic. 97%

CHOPLIFTER II £24.99

Re-hashed, almost exact copy of the original, but with enough little new twists for the game to still be appealing. 93%

FACEBALL 2000 £24.99

3D Pacman, a very simple idea that works well, very well. Check it out. 93%

TINY TOONS £24.99

Brill arcade adventure game in which you jump, spring and generally act in a platform way. A good little game. 93%

BLUES BROTHERS £24.99

Boasting the same characters from the film, but with nowhere near the same plot. Jake and Elwood are playing a gig in a small town, but the locals, being music lovers, have hidden their instruments. Great graphics and animation make this a classic. Check it out. 92%

CONTRA £24.99

Non-stop action and highly addictive gameplay elevate this standard shoot everything game to something a bit special. 92%

PROBOTECTOR £24.99

A smart cart despite a couple of annoying play points, like the way you start from the beginning of the level after you die. Worth having. 92%

SOLOMANS CLUB £24.99

Very addictive smart puzzle game. 92%

JEEP JAMBOREE £24.99

A driving sim game with courses varying in difficulty leaving little room for boredom. 91%

DR. FRANKEN £24.99

Dr. Franken searches his castle for bits of his girlfriend. There are about 100 spook-filled rooms to search, packed with monsters. 90%

SPEEDBALL £23.99

A future sim-like movie Rollerball, you dash around attacking the opposition. 90%

TERMINATOR II £19.99

Very impressive game on the Game Boy. A platform, shoot, puzzle game. Good animation and sound. Well worth checking out. 90%

MARIO TENNIS £19.99

Sports sim, with four difficult levels. This game is fast paced with realistic ball and player movement. 89%

REVENGE OF THE GATOR £24.99

Well worth a look at this smart pinball game, with ramps, flippers, etc. 89%

R-TYPE II £24.99

A blasting freaks dream, but very similar to the first game. The gameplay is not too bad. 88%

ADDAMS FAMILY £24.99

Although graphically not tremendous, it is competent and cute. 80%

GAME GEAR

SUPER KICK OFF £29.99

A real winner of a best soccer game. Fast, responsive action and exciting ball handling, with one or two players. Excellent. 95%

LEMMINGS 29.99

Great fun game and incredibly addictive. 100 levels of sheer fun. Save the Lemmings from impending doom by using your various skills to get them through the complicated puzzles. 92%

PRINCE OF PERSIA 29.99

A classic arcade adventure game. You will die many times before you manage to work your way out of the first level. Great game exploring, and tackling the puzzles and problems. 91%

DONALD DUCK: THE LUCKY DIME CAPER £29.99

A super platform game, even more lastable than Sonic the Hedgehog. Donald Duck chases the evil witch along various horizontally scrolling levels. 91%

WORLD CLASS LEADERBOARD £27.99

An excellent third person perspective golfing sim. The graphics are great and with its four 18-hole courses, this is good value. 91%

SHINOBI £24.99

You are a Master Ninja. You must stand against an evil group of terrorists with only your martial arts skills and your Ninja Magic! 90%

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG £29.99

Spin through space with Sonic, the real cool hedgehog. Loop until you are dizzy, save the animals and become the super hero! 90%

SUPER OFF ROAD £27.99

Great graphics and smooth, fun playability on this wicked 4x4 trucks race game. 90%

CHUCK ROCK £27.99

One of the best you can get on the Game Gear. Great graphics, animation, backdrops and wonderful rock-chucking display. 89%

MICKEY MOUSE £24.99

This is excellent with great backdrops and awesome gameplay. Mickey has to travel through many scrolling platform levels in the Castle of Illusion. 89%

COLUMNS £19.99

As jewels fall, try to match colours horizontally, vertically or diagonally. The puzzle challenge of a lifetime. 86%

CHASE HQ £27.99

This conversion of the popular Taito coin-op is a lot faster and playable than the Master System version. Join Raymond and Tony as they speed around in their Porsche, ramming criminal cars off the road. 85%

SPIDER MAN £24.99

Spider Man is battling against Kingpin, Venom, the Lizard, Doctor Octopus, Electro, Sandman and Hobbogoblin over a number of eight-way scrolling stages. This is great fun to play and very challenging to boot. A good platform game. 85%

NINJA GAIDEN £24.99

As Ryu, a present-day Ninja, you must find and destroy the organisation that is after the powerful Dragonsword. 84%

GALAGA '91 £27.99

A good blaster. A back to basics shoot 'em up, with excellent graphics, rumbling sounds and highly addictive blasting gameplay. 83%

WOGAN LAND £27.99

A horizontally scrolling platform game, probably the nearest you can get to Mario style action on a mini screen. Excellent graphics and playability. 83%

FANTASY ZONE £27.99

Flying around the bizarre scrolling backdrops, blasting everything that moves, is the name of the game here. 82%

THE CHESSMASTER £24.99

Fancy a quick game of chess? This game has great graphics, some digitised speech and an opponent that will give you something to think about. It makes a great break from blasting. 82%

FACTORY PANIC £24.99

Sneak into the factories owned by a vicious tycoon and get the quality products to the people who rightfully deserve them. 81%

INDIANA JONES III £27.99

Join Indiana Jones as he runs around five levels of platform action, causing aggravation to Nazis in an attempt to locate the Holy Grail. Graphically excellent. You can be put off because it is so hard. 81%

TERMINATOR £27.99

Fun and entertaining platform action with great graphics and challenging gameplay. The speed of the game means baddies rush you with no warning, but practice makes perfect, and it's well worth a go. 81%

G-LOC £24.99

Strap yourself into your G-Loc super plane and destroy the demented future world and their multi-national death squads. 80%

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG II £29.99

He's back with jazzed-up graphics, speeded-up gameplay and a higher difficulty setting. Conspicuous by his absence is Tails, his sidekick. The reduced visibility makes it almost impossible to see where Sonic is going, and what he is getting in to. Great fun though. 80%

STREETS OF RAGE £27.99

A graphically stunning product. The scrolling beat 'em up action is just as much fun as ever, although there are only two characters. There is also a good two player link mode. 80%

'DRACULA' THE UNDEAD BITES INTO NO. 1 POSITION

Dracula The Undead is the latest chart topping game to join over 60 titles currently available on the Atari Lynx. This massively enjoyable adventure game, launched in December to coincide with the launch of Dracula The Movie, stalked its way to the top of the chart, keeping other Christmas new releases — Dirty Larry and Joust — a coffin's distance away from the number one position.

MEAN MAIL

Dear D___k h___d, or shall I say Grouch,
I have a few questions that I would be most grateful if you could answer them for me.

1. Has Streetfighter II come out on the Super Nintendo yet?
2. Could you send me every cheat for every game on the Amiga?
3. For my birthday you could give me a Game Gear, and for Christmas you will give me an Amstrad Mega PC (500+).
4. If you can't give me that, £2,000 cash will do.
5. Can you send me a signed photograph of you, so I can flick my darts at it please, I and most other mean mail readers will be most grateful.

Yours truly
Maroj Bharif

ANSWERS

1. Who did you get to write this for you — you obviously can't read!
2. Buy Game Mania cheapskate and check out the cheats.
3. }
4. } Yes . . . you are a cheapskate, aren't you?
5. If you send me your photo, the readers can see how ugly cheap is!

NEO GEO

The NEO GEO offers game players true state of the art when it comes to video games. The NEO GEO is the only console that can play game cartridges of up to 300 Megabytes. At the heart of the NEO GEO is a 68000 processor with a Zilog Z80 co-processor dedicated to sound. Its graphics are unparalleled with a choice of 4096 colours on screen from a pallet of 65536. The resolution possible on a NEO GEO console is unmatched by any other game system in the world, the extra processing power also enables the use of hugely intricate detailed and coloured characters on the screen. The NEO GEO has a true stereo sound and there is a headphone socket and volume slider which can be used to run sound either through your Hi-Fi or headphones for personal listening. Standard Console Pack

Another exclusive feature to the NEO GEO is the optional memory card. This card allows you to save your current game place and then, by plugging in your card on a Multi Video System arcade machine, carry on playing from where you left off at home! Deluxe Console Pack including console, 2 controllers, memory card, PSU and 1 game destiny*

Roger Wilco is back as a newly graduated captain!

Help Roger and his crew of misfits zip through the cosmos in pursuit of the space villain who is dumping bio hazardous waste on unsuspecting planets.

Watch as true 3-D images realistically sweep by whilst you're cleaning up the universe and making it a safe clean place to take the kids.

Also escort Roger as he meets the famed "Hologram Woman" from Space Quest IV and help our hero make the transition from Custodia to Casanova.
